

Supplier Risk Manager

Predictive Insights to Manage Suppliers and Mitigate Risk

Decide with Confidence

The current business and economic environment is characterized by uncertainty, outsourcing, and globalization. Demand fluctuations are measured by days instead of months and quarters. Vendor management strategies must be designed to support evolving needs and ensure that your suppliers deliver as promised, when promised.

In order to succeed in this challenging environment, it is important to move beyond managing supplier relationships as transactions to managing them holistically. To do so, you need deep, accurate, and contextual insight into supplier identity, quality, performance, and risk, in a platform that is flexible enough to keep up with a changing environment.

D&B can help your agency reduce supplier risk, execute supplier diversity programs, manage supplier performance, and proactively respond to changes and challenges in the marketplace. With D&B's web-based solution, Supplier Risk Manager—which is also available as a vendor self-funded model—you can certify, monitor, and analyze suppliers, as well as mitigate supplier risk.

D&B's Supplier Risk Manager (SRM) is available as one core module—in which you can look up a supplier by name and country, D-U-N-S Number, or supplier ID—as well as the following supplementary modules:

- Alerts Module—stay informed of specific events and trends that may impact your suppliers
- Locator Module—tap into D&B's database of more than 205 million businesses to find new sources of suppliers
- Surveys Module—streamline and automate the survey process, including both standard and custom surveys
- Scorecard Module—combine D&B's data with your own supplier performance data to obtain a customized view of your supplier base risk
- Supply Base Analysis Module—evaluate your supply base with views on risk, diversity, corporate hierarchy, business unit, and reclassification
