

Supplier Portfolio Analysis

Visualize your supplier network data quality, risks and viability

OVERVIEW

IBM estimates that poor-quality data will cost businesses in the US approximately $3 trillion a year¹. Disconnected data creates incomplete and inaccurate views of parties and their relationships, causing a negative impact on companies and resulting in organizational inefficiencies.

For almost 200 years, Dun & Bradstreet has helped clients and partners grow through the power of data, analytics, and data-driven solutions to increase their ability to mitigate harmful risks.

Dun & Bradstreet's Supplier Portfolio Analysis, offers a high-level, illustrative data report, identifying growth opportunities by comparing and benchmarking your current dataset to the Dun & Bradstreet Data Cloud.
